HipKey

If you're one for leaving something important behind as you make a mad dash to the airport, the new hipKey from hippih will ensure you don't forget your phone or even your kids!

The key ring size hipKey sounds a loud alarm when you leave your valuables behind. The hipKey features an alarm mode, a child mode, a motion mode and a find me mode.

Simply connect the hipKey to any AppleW device via Bluetooth and set the distance you want your alarm to be triggered from, ranging from 2 - 50 metres.

The hipKey is small enough to slide into your pocket or hold in your hand so you'll always have time to retrieve your forgotten item before it's too late!

SnugPak Travel Towel

If you're tired of your bulky bath towel taking up all the room in your suitcase, then the Snugpak Microfibre Antibacterial Travel Towel is a travel must!

The Snugpak towel is extremely lightweight and can be packed away into its own little sack, making it a fraction of the size of a traditional bath towel. It's quick drying, bacterial resistant and machine washable. The towel comes in five different sizes and is available in either blue or olive.

Make sure your towel is completely dry before folding it away into the bag to ensure any unwanted smells stay out of your suitcase!

$15 - $40 depending on size available from www.snugpak.com

Music Fidelity EB-50 Headphones

Music is the key to surviving any long journey, and with Musical Fidelity you can now experience studio quality sound on the go with their brand new EB-50 headphones.

The EB-50 will headphones provide you with a ruler flat frequency and deep clear bass - the same peerless sound definition as Musical Fidelity's world-famous sound systems.

What's really fantastic about these headphones is the addition of an in-line mic/mute control so that you can take calls whilst listening to music if you have a smartphone.

These headphones were designed to keep your music personal so you can have them as loud as you like without annoying others.

Plus it comes in a swish travel pack with a variety of ear pieces so you can choose which size suits you best. It's the perfect travel buddy with a seal of quality.
